

Hurricane Wind Blasts Against Texas Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wind exceeding hurricane force swept a destructive storm like through Galveston, Tex., and along the Mexican border today. Other thunderstorms hit eastern Nebraska and Kansas and parts of Iowa and Illinois. Others raked an area from Florida across the Georgia border. The wind sank a fishing vessel, blew a tanker aground, nearly demolished three homes and inflicted widespread lesser damage on Galveston and vicinity. Two fishermen near Galveston were missing and feared drowned. Residents said the storm moved in as a "big, black, rumbling cloud," and another termed it "definitely a tornado."

The Weather Bureau officially clocked Galveston winds at 87 miles an hour, 12 above the minimum for hurricane force. Railroad cars were blown off the tracks. Winds lifted the roof off the city hall at Carrizo Springs about 300 miles west of Galveston, and power lines were snapped. Also unroofed was the historic Andrew Jackson home.

At Kankakee, Ill., about 4 1/2 inches of rain pushed two creeks out of their beds and forced the evacuation by boats of about 200 persons. Several highways were closed but later reopened, and seven passengers were taken by boat from a Chicago to St. Louis bus stalled on a flooded Kankakee street.

Flood waters up to six feet deep later began receding slowly, but more thunderstorms were predicted for the area.

Cold rain fell in near freezing temperatures in parts of eastern Montana and Wyoming.

Starkweather Slated to Die Friday

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Charles Starkweather, scheduled to die in Nebraska's electric chair Friday, has spurned the idea of a final face-to-face meeting with his ex-sweetheart, Caril Ann Fugate.

"I asked him if he wanted to see her and he said no," the acting warden, John Greenholtz, reported. "In fact, he made it very emphatic that he didn't want to see her."

Starkweather, 20, an ex-gambler hauler, is scheduled to pay with his life shortly after 6 a. m. for one of 11 killings covered in his confessions.

Caril, 15, is serving a life term for aiding and abetting her boyfriend during the murder rampage.

Starkweather, who has spent recent days reading the Bible and finishing a Western scene drawing, was convicted of slaying a Bennet, Neb. schoolboy.

Business Told Not to Seek Big Favors

NEW YORK (AP) — Spokesmen for the Republican and Democratic parties told businessmen today their role in politics must be that of citizens—not as seekers of special privilege through political advantage.

Sharing the speakers platform before the American Management Assn. were Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, and Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

"If businessmen are to achieve maximum effectiveness in politics," Morton said in his prepared speech, "they must work toward this goal primarily as citizens, rather than as spokesmen for or representatives of just one segment of our total economy."

In his prepared speech Butler said, "The best and most profitable way for business to get into politics is for each and every businessman to recognize that he is a citizen first and a businessman second, that he has all the other rights, duties, obligations that any citizen has."

The Republican and Democratic spokesmen agreed that "selfish motives should not inspire a businessman to become active in politics."

Junk Dealer Kills Three in Louisiana

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — A Negro junk man barbed himself in his two-room frame house yesterday and fought off officers for two hours before he was shot to death. Before that he killed a white woman and two policemen.

The victims of Albert Victor, about 40, were Mrs. Paul Ducharme and Capt. Harold Abadie and Sgt. Leroy King.

Two other policemen, Chief Carlo Listi and Asst. Chief Donlon Ritchey, were wounded. Listi's condition was described as serious.

Police were unable to figure out why Victor killed Mrs. Ducharme, 50, whose fully clothed body was found on a dressing table in her house. Victor lived just a few yards from the Ducharme home.

A neighbor telephoned police she saw Victor take two small white boys into his house.

Abadie and King answered the complaint. Unaware that Mrs. Ducharme had been shot to death, they called on Victor to come out. He opened fire as they stood on his front porch.

Listi and Ritchey investigated when King and Abadie failed to report. Victor began shooting as they stepped from the car. Listi fell wounded. Ritchey radioed for help.

About 50 officers surrounded the house but Victor, armed with a shotgun and 22-caliber rifle, kept them from closing in on him with his accurate shooting.

Officers threw tear gas shells and hand grenades into the house. The house burst into flames, but officers said they didn't know whether Victor set it afire or whether the blaze was caused by the tear gas.

The gun battle ended shortly after the fire broke out. Officers found Victor's charred body with wounds in his head and stomach.

Officers said Mrs. Ducharme was shot with the gun with which Victor killed the two policemen. Victor probably became enraged and fired on Abadie and King, thinking they had come to arrest him for Mrs. Ducharme's slaying, police said.

The two boys, James Rogers, 10, and William Langlinas, 3, were on their way to school when Victor beckoned to them. They went into his house where he began tying them up but they broke away and jumped into the patrol car just after Abadie and King arrived.

MOP Loss Estimated at $300,000

NORT HLITTLE ROCK (AP) — Loss from an early morning fire at the Missouri Pacific Lines shops here has been estimated at $300,000.

The fire, which broke out before dawn yesterday, damaged 20 empty freight cars and the car repair shed.

John W. Treadwell, MOPac division superintendent, made the damage estimate.

Favor Giving Hospital to Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of various federal agencies today endorsed a bill which would give the Army-Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., to Arkansas for use as a vocational rehabilitation center.

Testifying before the Senate Government Operations Committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), were spokesmen for the Army, Health, Education and Welfare Department, General Services Administration and the National Park Service.

Bills have been introduced by McClellan and Rep. W. F. Norrell (D-Ark.) to transfer the 20-million dollar hospital, including some 34 buildings and nearly 25 acres to the state which has set up a plan to operate the regional center it would aid in rehabilitation of handicapped persons.

The plan was explained by Don Russell, director of the Arkansas Board for Vocational Education.

The Army has tried for several years to close the hospital, contending it isn't needed. Congress, however, for the last four years has directed continued operation of the hospital. This action has been chiefly the result of insistence by McClellan, Norrell, and other Arkansas members of Congress.

U. S. Turns Power Against Underworld

By DANIEL LEHANE
NEW YORK (AP) — The power of the federal government today was turned upon the notorious 1937 underworld convention at Apalachicola, N.Y., with 27 delegates indicted on charges of conspiring to balk probes of it.

Arrests of the defendants quickly got under way. Many already were in trouble and some in jail, as a result of refusal to answer questions of various investigatory agencies previously.

The crackdown was the result of nearly a year's effort by a special crime-busting agency set up by the U.S. attorney general's office, with teams of agents working across the nation.

The Apalachicola delegates came from many cities, and authorities since have been struggling to peg its purpose. The general opinion is that it was for tightening or altering control over a vast empire of rackets.

All 63 persons who attended the conference were named in the indictment but only 27 as defendants.

The remaining 36 were labeled as coconspirators. The reason for this was not immediately made clear. Usually such action is for lack of enough evidence. Sometimes those named as coconspirators have indicated willingness to cooperate with, or testify for, the prosecution.

The latter possibility seemed remote in this instance.

If convicted of conspiracy to obstruct justice, as charged in the indictment, the 27 defendants could receive five-year prison sentences and $10,000 fines each.

Some claimed those in attendance were top echelon figures of could receive five-year prison sentences and $10,000 fines each.

Senators Want to Call Hoffa for Accounting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor Management Committee wants to hear first-hand James R. Hoffa's views on any retaliatory strikes threat.

Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, denied Wednesday he had threatened a nationwide labor walkout if restrictive labor laws are passed by Congress. He was quoted as making such a threat in a speech Tuesday at Brownsville, Tex.

The committee said it wanted to question Hoffa in mid-June about corruption and will ask him then under oath about plans for any such strike.

Hoffa told newsmen there never would be a nationwide strike of the Teamsters Union. However, a story in the current issue of Life magazine quotes him as saying, "We may eventually have to do what labor unions do in Europe and call general strikes."

While Hoffa was making his denial, the AFL-CIO, from which the Teamsters have been ousted, opened a major attack on the Senate labor bill.

The top policy group of the AFL-CIO said it wants federal legislation to help unions curb corruption but will fight any move to hamstring unions. It said the Senate bill which it once supported now is unacceptable because of its amendments.

Nose Cone Is Recovered After 6,000 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force hurled a tiny nose cone of the future 6,000 miles down the Atlantic today and recovered it intact four hours later.

It was the second consecutive time the Air Force retrieved a nose cone.

The Air Force announced some eight hours after a powerful two-stage Thor-Able rocket blasted aloft that re-entry and impact of the cone was spotted by a plane cruising near the impact area northwest of Ascension Island.

The cone, which carried some of the secrets for protecting the warheads of ICBMs of tomorrow, was hoisted aboard a vessel, part of the search fleet that rendezvoused near the impact area. The launching rocket, a Thor missile topped by a Vanguard second stage, roared up at 1:40 a. m. and was, in sight for more than two minutes.

New Space Effort Set for July

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A model of the capsule that will carry the first American into space is scheduled to be fired aboard a powerful Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile this July, informed sources said today.

Launching of the 1,900-pound instrumented capsule will be a major stride for Project Mercury, the nation's multimillion-dollar effort to put man in space.

Three of the Army's reliable medium-range Redstone missiles also are programmed to shoot capsules starting in July, it was learned.

The plan for the first Atlas venture is to blast the capsule 1,800 miles over the Atlantic and then recover it from the depths for study.

In the future, animal passengers will be included on the capsule flights before man takes his first big step.

Herter Flatly Warns Gromyko Against Any NATO Accusations

Board President Threatened With a Libel Suit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The president of the Little Rock School Board today was threatened with a suit for libel in the latest development in the heated teacher purge controversy.

Attorney Eugene R. Warren wrote Ed I. McKinley Jr., the president that unless proof of charges contained in an advertisement in yesterday's Arkansas Democrat was furnished, immediately, an action for libel would be instituted "against you and your associates."

McKinley declined immediate comment.

The advertisement said that 44 teachers and other school employees whom McKinley and two colleagues voted to dismiss on May 5 were discharged for one of several listed reasons, some of them serious.

The advertisement was not signed by McKinley but by the Rev. M. L. Moser Jr., chairman of a segregationist group which backs McKinley and his allies.

Warren wrote that the Arkansas Gazette quoted Moser as saying he had obtained his information from McKinley.

We have made an extensive investigation and we can find no evidence which would lead us to believe that there is anything to substantiate the statements.

As attorneys for the libeled teachers, we invite you to furnish us proof of the charges immediately; otherwise we will have no other alternative than to institute an action for libel against you and your associates."

Warren declared that the wording of the advertisement "implies that each individual teacher is guilty of one or all of the charges made."

"My clients," he concluded, "are not willing to participate in a private closed hearing, but as previously suggested by you, but they welcome an open public hearing in a court of law on these charges and an opportunity to confront their accusers, if there really are any accusers."

As a result of the furor which developed after McKinley and his colleagues voted to dismiss the school employees, Little Rock residents will vote Monday on proposed recall of all six of the school board members.

One group of citizens is seeking to oust the McKinley faction; another group, the three moderate members who boycotted the teachers' dismissal session.

Demos to Fight Any Cut in Housing Bill

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, riding high after an initial victory over administration forces, fought today to prevent cuts in their $2,100,000,000 omnibus bill.

On a key vote Wednesday, the House slapped down President Eisenhower's supporters by killing a proposed $1,800,000,000 substitute for the housing measure brought to the floor by House Banking Committee Democrats.

The vote was 203-177, with a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democratic conservatives on the losing side.

Some cuts below the amount proposed by the Banking Committee seemed likely before general passage, however.

The new public housing features of the measure were sure to come under especially sharp attack from many Democrats as well as Republicans. The bill would authorize 35,000 public housing units a year for four years. Neither the Eisenhower program nor the defeated substitute proposal provided for such structures.

There were GOP warnings that the Democratic measure faces a certain veto if it is enacted without change.

Major features of the Democratic bill when the House started to work on it included a three-year, $1.5-billion-dollar program of sum elimination, 400 millions for college housing loans—100 millions for housing for the elderly, 140,000 new units of public housing, and lower down payments on FHA home mortgages.

Aggressiveness Charge Angers U. S. Minister

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, warned Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the Big Four conference today against making "unjustified accusations against NATO of aggressiveness."

Herter, who had not planned to speak today, suddenly broke into the debate on a German peace settlement, to challenge Gromyko's charges.

He hoped the accusations and invective will be halted, Herter said, because Gromyko's statements could lead to creation of "very serious tension in the conference."

The West-blamed a Soviet proposal for a confederation East and West Germany with a declaration it is impossible to "confederate a system of freedom with a system of bondage."

Ambassador Wilhelm Groewé of West Germany, carrying forward the "naked assault" on the Soviet plan for a peace settlement with each side of divided Germany, told the Big Four conference the confederation project was designed to impose political paralysis on West Germany.

"The proposal of a German confederation does not contribute to the reunification of Germany," Groewé asserted, "but to its postponement, its prevention and, over and above all this, to the political paralysis of the Federal Republic."

Groewé said explanations of the over-all peace plan offered by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in the conference Wednesday were "in some respects welcomed" by West Germany.

He welcomed Gromyko's assurances that the Soviet Union would not insist on immediate withdrawal by West Germany from its political, military and economic ties with the West.

But assurances on such points could lead to a new misunderstanding, he said, if they caused Gromyko to believe that his whole plan was more acceptable. It can never be accepted by Western powers, he added, so long as it provides for partition rather than unification of Germany.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will meet with the other Big Four ministers tonight at a dinner which could prove a turning point in the wary negotiations over a summit conference agreement.

Some high diplomats attached great importance to the dinner, though it is billed as purely social.

British and French officials said the assembly of 12 top men of the Big Four conference at Herter's villa offered an opportunity to get away from the repetitive formal debate of the regular sessions and come to grips with basic problems.

They even spoke of a possible series of such social affairs as a means of swinging the conference into more private negotiations.

U.S. officials, however, attempted to dampen growing interest in the dinner. They said there was no thought beforehand on Herter's part of trying to get any conference work done or to promote any secret diplomacy.

Officials of all three Western delegations conceded that it was literally impossible to predict ahead of time what would happen because Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko might create an opening or make a move which they cannot anticipate.

Gromyko is already beginning to prod the three Western ministers into letting them know what their terms are for agreement on a summit conference. Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Charles de Gaulle are reported playing hard to get, chiefly because France and West Germany are not yet united.

Missile Test Workers Urged to Strike

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Striking carpenters have urged all union workers at the missile test center here to walk out today in a sympathy gesture.

Willard Van Hoose, Carpenters Union negotiator, also said the union rescinded its agreement allowing 1,500 Transport Workers and Teamsters Union workmen to cross picket lines to perform emergency missile work.

These two unions, plus 1,000 building tradesmen, honored the pickets when 115 carpenters struck Friday in a wage dispute with contractors.

Missile launchings have not been affected by the strike. But several million dollars worth of military construction is halted.

The Carpenters, who now average $2.85 an hour, are asking for a one-year contract with a 25-cent-an-hour wage hike retroactive to April 1, when the old contract expired. The contractors have offered a staggered 35-cent boost over a two-year period, with no retroactive pay.

Germany — meaning President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer — have inked. The debate on contradictory Soviet and Western German peace plans is continuing but getting nowhere. The main conference sessions, the question of all four big power delegations are now worrying about how and when to start secret negotiations.

East and West German delegations were not invited to the dinner. Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville have been putting out word for days that there would be no point in having private talks if the Germans were included because the meeting would be too big.

Herter invited each of the other three foreign ministers and two advisers each for himself and for them. On the U.S. side, he asked Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant. In each of the other delegations he asked the No. 2 man and the top diplomatic adviser of the foreign minister.

Gromyko will bring along Valerian Zorin, deputy minister of foreign affairs, and Alexander Soldatov, chief of the ministry's American department.

Unsure of what concessions if any the Soviets might be willing to make, they were refusing to fall in with implied Soviet suggestions that they put aside their sweeping master plan for German reunification and get down to bargaining on such individual issues as the future of Berlin.

Chiefly on French insistence, the Western ministers were holding back until Gromyko produced more acceptable proposals.

Gromyko's wary opening moves were made both in the formal sessions of the conference at the

The storm struck from a line that spread destruction from near the Mexican border east to this coastal city.

Two men who went to check their fishing lines near Galveston remained unreported late in the morning and were feared drowned.

The wind tore down an over-sized sign, called a "spectacular" on Galveston's Pleasure Pier in the Gulf of Mexico. Pier authorities said engineers inspected the sign three months ago and declared it would withstand winds of from 175 to 200 m.p.h.

The winds blew a tanker around, sank a fishing vessel, virtually destroyed three homes and caused widespread lesser destruction in Galveston and immediate vicinity.

Some residents said the storm descended in what they called a "big, black, fumbling cloud."

One resident on a Peninsula near Galveston declared "It definitely was a tornado."

"I heard it coming," said Mrs. Jerry Simpson of Port Bolivar. "It sounded like a jet plane. A house was picked up and a house near where I live was moved 40 feet."

Weather bureau men officially clocked winds at Galveston at 87 m.p.h., well over minimum hurricane force.

On Bolivar Peninsula nearby, winds were estimated at 100 m.p.h.

The wind blew railroad cars off the tracks at Galveston.

The Continental Grain Co. dock at Galveston was partially destroyed.

Port Bolivar was without power or telephones for a time.

At Carrizo Springs, 300 miles west of Galveston, winds unrooted the city hall. Some sections of the city were without power lines for a time. At least 30 power poles in the area snapped.

Near Cuero, 156 miles west of Galveston, what were described by witnesses as "twisting winds" blew down power lines and trees.

Deputy Sheriff Buddy Bing estimated winds at Port Bolivar at up to 100 m.p.h.

The Galveston Tribune said three houses were blown down at Port Bolivar, on a slender peninsula just northeast of the island city of Galveston.

The debate over the rival Soviet and Western peace plans for Germany is expected to continue through Friday and may run into next week.

It has boiled down to a deadlock which neither side has any demand for an immediate peace treaty with a divided Germany vs. the Western demand for German unification before signing a treaty.

Nomination of Strauss Is Withheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas withheld judgment today on Lewis L. Strauss nomination to be secretary of commerce.

Amid indications that Johnson's position may determine whether the nomination is confirmed or rejected, the Democratic leader said he will not make up his mind until after reading the long record of Senate Commerce Committee.

"With very rare exceptions," he said, "I have felt that the President's recommendations on these nominations should be accepted."

Johnson declined to say, however, whether he regarded the Strauss appointment as one of the exceptions.

Teacher Narrowly Escapes Drowning

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A negro school teacher narrowly escaped possible drowning when her automobile ran off Highway 65 and into a water-filled bauxite pit near here yesterday.

A Pine Bluff man, who was on a passing bus, helped her out of the water.

State Trooper William R. Jones identified the principals as Mrs. Percy M. Draper of Little Rock, a teacher at the J. C. Cook High School at Wrightsville, and Adron H. Vandiver, 2824 Elm Street in Pine Bluff.

Jones said he was told that Mrs. Draper answered to avoid another automobile and applied the brakes. The brakes didn't hold and the automobile ran into the pit. It came to rest upside down with only one wheel out of the water.

The bus reached the scene about the time of the accident. The driver stopped and Vandiver plunged

Probe Handbills in Mixed Racial Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Authorities continued an investigation today into the origin of handbills that invited Negroes to a rally for white teachers.

Two Negro men, Benjamin Campbell, 30, and Mark Kline, have been charged in the case. Their hearing was set yesterday for June 30 in Municipal Court on charges of violating a state law which provides penalties for distribution of unsigned political circulars.

The handbills invited Negroes to a rally Tuesday night sponsored by the Committee to Stop This Outrageous Purge (STOP). They bore the name of STOP's chairman, Dr. Drew Agar.

STOP is an organization formed to seek recall of three segregationist Little Rock School Board members who fired 44 teachers.

Agar said the use of his name was unauthorized and swore out warrants for the arrest of persons who distributed the handbills.

Campbell said white persons into the water fully clothed and helped Mrs. Draper to shore. She was not injured.

House Pays Tribute to John Foster Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has paid affectionate tribute to cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles.

No change was reported in the condition of the former secretary of state whose cancer illness has been complicated by pneumonia.

House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said Wednesday, "We miss him very much. I wish him well and pray that God showers his abundance on him."

McCormack said he had no doubt that history will recognize Dulles as one of the greatest secretaries.

Drag Racer Guilty of Manslaughter

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A teenage drag racer accused of causing a traffic accident that killed three persons was convicted of manslaughter Wednesday.

Robert Clarence Fennelwald, 18, was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 in Circuit Court.

Witnesses said Fennelwald was racing at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour last Nov. 23 in North St. Louis just before the accident. They said he forced the car he was racing into the wrong lane, where it collided with another car.

Palace of Nations and in private talks with the Western ministers, especially Britain's Selwyn Lloyd.

Western diplomats reported Wednesday night that the Soviet foreign minister told Lloyd he was definitely interested in negotiating seriously on four issues included in the Western package plan for a German peace settlement.

These call for a new arrangement for West Berlin, an East-West nonaggression declaration, creation of a committee of West and East Germans to bring the two Germanys closer together, and the establishment of a central European zone in which armed forces would be limited.

Gromyko had previously told the conference that he was prepared to discuss these subjects. But his talk with Lloyd evidently was designed to emphasize that he was serious and felt these issues offered hope for progress toward arranging a summit meeting.

The debate over the rival Soviet and Western peace plans for Germany is expected to continue through Friday and may run into next week.

It has boiled down to a deadlock which neither side has any demand for an immediate peace treaty with a divided Germany vs. the Western demand for German unification before signing a treaty.

DOROTHY DIX

Hubby's Helpful Hands
Aren't Always Welcome

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: I would like to come to the defense of the wife whose husband resents her cracks about his helpfulness. I am married to a so-called helping husband. You can have it. Did it ever occur to Mr. X that the reason his wife embarrasses him is that she would prefer to do her own work? When there is illness or small babies, a little help is fine. Let it go at that. But no, "the interfering self-appointed king of the kitchen." Do you know that I have lost all desire to make a special effort to please my husband with tasty meals? He can do it himself. Whether a man realizes it or not, a so-called helping husband only does so to satisfy his own ego and to prove to himself that he can run a kitchen as well as his job. Our grandmothers never had to put up with interfering husbands. Why should we? Let Mr. X show his wife he loves and needs her. She'll be happy to do her own work. This helping-husband a jewel? Bah! He has replaced the interfering mother-in-law. I wonder if any of your readers agree with me.—Lottie Sutterling Mrs. Y

Dear Mrs. Y: I wonder, to does anyone? My mail carried no indication that anyone does. I get reams of letters testifying, "My husband never lifts a hand around the house," but can't recall a wife who complained that the master of the house was too masterful in the kitchen. Let's hear from other gals who share Mrs. Y's feelings on the subject.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My sister and I are friendly with two boys who live on our block. One is 15 but doesn't act it. He behaves more like a 12-year-old. The other is 13 and acts older than his brother. How can we get the older one to act his age?—Tillie

Dear Tillie: Patience, my dear. A 15-year-old boy is a very unsettled creature. In thoughts, actions, deeds, and dreams he can range from 12 to 20. In time, he'll settle down to his age group, but you can't hasten the process.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Joan and I have been inseparable for over a year and we have become very popular girls. However, if I go anywhere without her, all I hear is, "Where's Joan?" My friends feel I should break off with her but I'm afraid I do my popularity will suffer.—Louise

Dear Louise: And when Joan goes out alone, people ask her, "Where's Louise?" Your friends have grown accustomed to seeing you together and are naturally

WINNER OF THE GRAND PRIZE in the Treasure Chest contest sponsored by Safeway and Baker's Easy Pay Store was Mrs. J. C. Goodwin of Hope. Mary Margaret Daniels

VALEDICTORIAN of the Hope-High School senior class is Ann Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cole. Besides making the highest grades in her class Ann has been very active in all school affairs. She will make the Valedictorian address at exercises in Hammons Stadium Thursday, May 28. Baccalaureate services will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday, May 24 at First Baptist Church.

SALUTATORIAN of the class is Mary Margaret Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Daniels. She will make the salutatorian's address at graduation exercises May 28. Mary also has taken a leading part in school activities.

surprised to see either one of you doing a single. Why do people think you should break off with your friend? Friendship is a very precious thing, not to be treated lightly. If you have found a friend in Joan and want to have a friend to her keep the friendship.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in a dither. My boy friend has been bringing me a present every time we have a date, which is about four times a week. He thinks if he doesn't bring something like candy, a record or flowers I'll stop dating him. After buying me a present he has no money for himself. How can I tell him to to get the idea I'm handing him a brush-off.—Midge

Dear Midge: Tell him he can't barter you with his bounty and that it isn't at all necessary because you'd like him just as much, and would enjoy seeing him as much, if he came present-less. If the boy has sense, he'll realize that your selfishness is slop. I certainly don't want him a sure sign of real affection and friendship.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and a dollar as her care of this newspaper.

Crosby Boys Call Brother the Phantom

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Here comes the Phantom. That's the way the older Crosby brothers greet their baby brother, Lindsay. He has earned the handle, by his air of mystery. While the coming and goings of the other three are fairly predictable, Lindsay is always hard to locate. Here's how the brothers describe him:

• Bing: "He's like the old man (Bing). He's more quiet than the rest of us, more sly with his humor."

• Phillip: "He's the coolest one of us. He has a great disposition. Dennis, Lindsay just exists. Lindsay differs in looks, to be the darkest of the four, with curly brown hair and heavy eyebrows, a slim, handsome face, with cleft chin. At 21, he seems amazingly mature."

• Darry and the twins: "They were only a year apart. Lindsay came three and a half years later, and he recalls being an unwelcome tag-along during his boyhood. After Dixie died, Bing dropped his career to spend most of a year with Lindsay. They toured Europe, where Lindsay pursued his interest in art."

The lad attended a semester at Williams College in Massachusetts, then dropped out to serve Army duty. "I liked Williams, but I didn't think I was getting anything out of it," he says.

Most of his Army service was at Ft. Ord, 300 miles north of Hollywood. It was during this time that he decided on a show business career. He emceed an Army show on a Los Angeles TV station and sang for teenagers at roller rinks and dance halls.

"One night I looked down at those kids watching me, and I discovered I was enjoying myself," he says.

Recently out of the Army, Lindsay shares a two-bedroom hillside home with singer Jimmy Boyd. He has made some records with fair success. "But they wanted me to sing rock 'n' roll and my voice is too low for that," Jerry Wald feels he has great promise as an actor and wants to cast him in "Hound Dog Man." But Lindsay insists that nothing will interfere with the brother act. The Crosbys are preparing for a nationwide tour.

Finds Water Can Get Folks Plastered

By SAUL PETT
NEW YORK (AP) — At first the news seemed reassuring to some of us. We even felt a little smug. But as we thought about it, the whole thing became very disturbing.

The news came from London. Two doctors there reported that some people can get plastered, stoned, bombed, potted, crocked, water.

There were nine case histories of people who began with some emotional distress and found themselves reaching for water the way the rest of us react to too much liquor. Tanked up with water, their speech slurred, eyelids drooped, minds became giddy. They got hangovers the next day.

For us old-fashioned whisky drinkers, the news was strangely pleasing at first. All alone, we suspected water drinkers as being self-righteous; behind all that rampant white virtue there had to lurk some dark vice. Now we know.

Still, it's unsettling to think about the water addict—the Aquaholic, the potential member of Aquaholics Anonymous. The bad water drinker could become more of a social problem than the alcohol. There's so much of the stuff around.

How would you get a guy off his cheap sauce? Where would you hide him?

Every swimming pool would be suspect. So would every bath and shower and no Aquaholic could be allowed to take either alone. The worst possible way to begin a marriage with one would be a honeymoon to Niagara Falls.

The office water cooler would take on pathological overtones. The phrase, "ice water in his veins," would take on a dark meaning and TVA, Grand Coulee Dam and every irrigation project from Arizona to the Nevad would suddenly acquire new fanatical supporters.

The problems don't end there. Which wagon would the Aquaholic go on after he makes his New Year's resolution? Certainly not the water wagon.

How would you bring him back to life on the morning after? Black coffee would be verboten; it has water in it. Likewise tomato juice. Even 100-proof whisky would be out because it has 50 per cent water. Liquid mercury would be safe except it would kill him.

Oil and water, you say, don't mix. Right! Give him cod liver oil, castor oil or just crankcase oil. That would sober him up but in the process you'd be getting the water addict well-oiled.

BELOIT, Wis. (AP) — Twenty-six paintings from one of the Midwest's largest private art collections have been presented to Beloit College by Charles H. Morse of Lake Forest, Ill. Morse, a life trustee of the school and his wife collected the items over a period of 22 years — much of the time while living in a castle near Munich, Germany.

Good Bargains on Tap for Food Shoppers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A great variety of bargains are on tap this week for food shoppers.

Steak, chuck roast, leg of lamb, liver, shrimp and eggs—all are listed as the No. 1 attraction in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores. This gives the shopper a choice at both end of the economic scale. Steak or shrimp at the top, chuck or liver at the bottom and lamb somewhere in between.

Egg bargains are just about everywhere. Producer prices are the lowest in 18 years. Representatives of 34 farm, poultry and food trade groups met with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson this week to discuss an accelerated merchandising program.

Supermarket prices were slashed again, dropping 2 to 8 cents a dozen over a wide area.

Bumper supplies of lettuce, coupled with the specials on shrimp, make a salad of this sea food delicacy a good hot weather bargain.

Most California and Arizona lettuce is being augmented by heads from the Carolinas, Virginia and New Jersey.

Also on the belt buy list are bunches or topped western carrots, celery, radishes, green onions, white boiler onions, spinach and kale and collards. Supplies of carrots, celery and spinach all are running ahead of year-ago levels.

Somewhat higher this week are peppers, eggplant and cauliflower. Cucumbers are a bit lower but still no better than the previous buy.

Plenty of fresh fruits also are available at bargain levels. Headline list are oranges, grapefruit, strawberries, pineapples, watermelons and apples.

News Briefs

HONG KONG (AP)—Thirty-seven refugees reportedly escaped Tuesday from Communist China to Macao during a storm. The pro-Nationalist newspaper, "Truth Daily," said the refugees fled in small harbor craft when Communist gunboats took shelter in a cove.

PANAMA CITY (AP)—The government has granted safe conduct to Brazil for three students refused in the Brazilian Embassy since last month's abortive uprising. It held up action on a similar appeal by Roberto Arias, accused of leading the revolt.

Government Minister Jose D. Bajan said authorities were still studying the case of Arias, former ambassador to London and husband of British ballerina, Margot Fonteyn. Arias has been in the Brazilian Embassy for three weeks.

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Judge N. V. Rao Tuesday sentenced 16 persons to death for fatally beating three brothers in a dispute over the precedence of bulls in a festival procession.

Witnesses testified the accused surrounded their victims and beat them with sticks. A jury found them guilty of murder, and the judge commented that all 16 defendants were equally responsible.

The victims' father, a village government official, had objected to the accused men giving their bull a place ahead of his sons' at the traditional Festival of Bulls.

LONDON (AP)—A boy died today after undergoing a new type of deep-freeze operation to mend a hole in his heart.

The boy, Keith Fordham, 16, son of a schoolmaster, underwent the surgery Tuesday. The operation at first was pronounced a success, but the boy's condition worsened.

The deep-freeze technique involves cooling the body to 30 degrees below normal by pumping the blood through stainless steel refrigeration tubes. At 50 degrees the heart can be drained and stopped for more than 45 minutes, giving surgeons more time to work.

PORTOFINO, Italy (AP)—Hollywooding Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher arrived in this Italian Riviera resort Tuesday night aboard their rented yacht. Film Actress Kim Novak, visiting Italy with her father and mother, also arrived.

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP)—Police Chief William A. Ross said today high school seniors found guilty of traffic violations after their prom Friday night will lose their diplomas as well as their licenses.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Episcopal Church is going to erect two portable churches in Connecticut.

The diocese of Hartford announced that two such churches—eastly built and dismantled—will be placed in Bolton and Middlebury.

They will be moved when they are outgrown, said the diocese. The churches will cost about $20,000 each.

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets today claimed their giant Tu-114 propeller set a new world distance record for passenger airliners, flying 4,225.26 miles nonstop from Moscow to Khabarovsk, eastern Siberia, in 8 hours 22 minutes.

The World Almanac shows no comparable record for Western commercial passenger planes, but the U.S. Navy's patrol bomber Truculent holds the record for "airline distance" record of 11,225 miles. The propeller-driven plane flew from Australia to Columbus, Ohio, in 55 hours, 18 minutes in 1945.

TELEPHONE TALK

A NEW ADDITION

Perhaps you have heard a new voice or seen a new face in our local Commercial office, if so, it's none other than Barbara Clitty.

Barbara is the wife of Jim Clitty, program director at radio station KXAR here in Hope. She and Jim are both natives of Texarkana, and lived there until 1952, when they moved to Hot Springs. They lived there for about five years. They moved to Hope two years ago. They have a six-year-old daughter, Terry Ann, and reside at 418 East Division Street.

We are proud to welcome this young lady into our organization.

CLASS OF '59

Ever heard about the young fellow who worked so hard to graduate from school? He's been wondering ever since what his hurry was.

But, anyway, graduation is a pretty important milestone in a youngster's life. It's the sort of achievement that merits a little recognition.

And that brings up a problem that I'd like to offer some help with. If you haven't selected a gift yet for your graduate, an extension telephone—in color—for his or her room is something that would really be appreciated. Why not just call us at PR-7-4001 and place your order?

And while I'm giving advice, here's some just for the young men and women in the graduating class: Remember, now that you're through school, all that stands between you and the top of the ladder is the ladder.

SEEING THINGS

They tell me that there are more television sets in the United States than there are bathtubs. Now, just who gave enough about it to go to the trouble of counting them I don't know but the result doesn't surprise me too much.

Just about everybody has a TV set now—and some folks have more than one.

Whether you like the weekend baseball games, westerns, panel shows or whatever, the chances are that most of the programs you like best are beamed to your favorite station over telephone facilities. Network TV shows come to you by way of either coaxial cable or microwave radio relay—the same way many of your long distance calls are transmitted.

That—and network radio transmission, too—is a little known telephone service that plays an important part in the daily lives of all of us.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Hussein New Strongman in Middle East

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

Amid the swirling Mideastern sands stirred up by the power struggle between Iraq's Abdul Karim Kassim and Egypt's Gamal Abdul Nasser, a new strongman has appeared.

He is 24-year-old King Hussein of Jordan.

Less than a year ago he easily could have won little as a man likely to succeed, or even to live very long in a land noted for the dispatch with which an assassin's bullet could erase leaders or street mobs change the course of history.

Nor is the young king's future secure even now, caught as he is between Egypt and Syria in need of the Jordan land bridge to link geographically as well as politically the United Arab Republic and between the UAR and Iraq, each with its own particular brand of Arab nationalism.

Nor in an area of bitter anti-Westernism is his security aided by the fact that he is frankly friendly toward the United States.

Latest evidence of Hussein's determination to plot his own course came this month when he sacked Premier Samir El-Rifai and installed in his place 42-year-old Fawzi Majali.

The action came almost within hours of Hussein's return home to his capital of Amman after a world tour which included dinner with a bevy of Hollywood film beauties as well as a talk with President Eisenhower in Washington.

In Washington, he had been joined by El-Rifai, who accompanied him the rest of the way home.

There was no indication that any disagreement had arisen between the two during the trip, but the feeling was that El-Rifai's sought and obtained resignation simply culminated a growing determination in Hussein to take over his own and Jordan's destinies.

Caught By Surprise
But the move caught the Western world by surprise because of El-Rifai's proven devotion to the Jordanian throne and the fact that to him was given most of the credit for saving Hussein against bitter attacks by the Cairo and Syrian radios and their obvious attempts to dislodge him, and for thwarting numerous other plots against him.

The new premier, Fawzi Majali, had one other bitter taste of the job.

He held it for 80 hours in 1955. Majali was a pro-Baghdad Pact man, and the British were in the midst of an ill-advised attempt to high pressure Jordan into joining.

Under the prodding of the Egyptian and Syrian radios, the street mobs took over. The mobs stoned and fired U. S. point four buildings and British libraries. Less than four days after he took over, Majali resigned.

Reflection Of Confidence
Hussein's action in firing El-Rifai is a reflection of his confidence in his own growing popular support. A year ago it would have been impossible for both him and El-Rifai to be away from Amman, as they were recently in Washington, with any safety that his regime still would be standing upon his return.

Mideastern diplomats also believe Hussein would not have named Majali to the job without full confidence that Majali will follow his orders.

Geographically, Jordan is important only to its neighbors who covet its land. Except politically, the land itself is all but worthless. It has no natural boundaries and financially it must exist on handouts from the United States and Britain and now-and-then support from Saudi Arabia. But Hussein himself today may be a balanced wheel helping to preserve the Mideast's precarious peace.

Women's Group Is Against Purge

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The Pine Bluff chapter of the American Association of University Women yesterday went on record with a protest against a teacher purge at Little Rock.

Mrs. Ray Toler, president of the chapter, sent a letter to the Little Rock branch which said in part:

"The Pine Bluff branch, strongly deplores and condemns the attempted purge of the 44 Little Rock teachers."

The teacher dismissals were ordered recently by three extreme segregationist members of the Little Rock School Board.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Carroll D. Keams (R-Pa.) today offered a new labor bill which he said would help unions do their own housecleaning.

Keams, senior Republican on the House Labor Committee, said he thinks unions will do that "if they are given the necessary tools and real protection while the job is being done."

Keams told a news conference he hopes to have Republican support for his bill. He said he has talked with administration leaders "from the vice president on down" and no one has objected to his introducing it.

The House Labor Committee is holding hearings on various approaches to labor-management reform legislation, including an administration bill and the measure known as the Kennedy bill passed by the Senate.

Keams' bill includes what he described as a simple, but comprehensive bill of rights for rank-and-file union members. He said it would give a long way toward insuring that control of the union would be in the hands of the members rather than the officials.

The bill would eliminate much of the authority delegated to the secretary of labor in other proposals. It would require the union financial reports only to members of the unions. The Kennedy bill would require unions to file financial reports with the secretary of labor.

Keams said the Kennedy bill relies on court enforcement and criminal penalties to back its provisions. He relies on the unfair labor practice procedure of the National Labor Relations Board.

He said he did not believe integration versus segregation was the main issue in the conflict. It is a battle over personalities, the governor said.

Asked about Ku Klux Klan recruiting posters which have appeared on utility poles in Arkansas, recently, the governor said he thought the Klan movement was spreading throughout the South.

He said he did not believe anyone in his administration would join the Klan. And he added that he has instructed the state Police to report to him on any activities of the Klan or similar organizations.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said today he thinks the current uproar over a teacher purge is dividing Little Rock "more than anything that has gone on before."

Faubus told a news conference that "continued warfare of this kind could jeopardize the relations" between people in Little Rock.

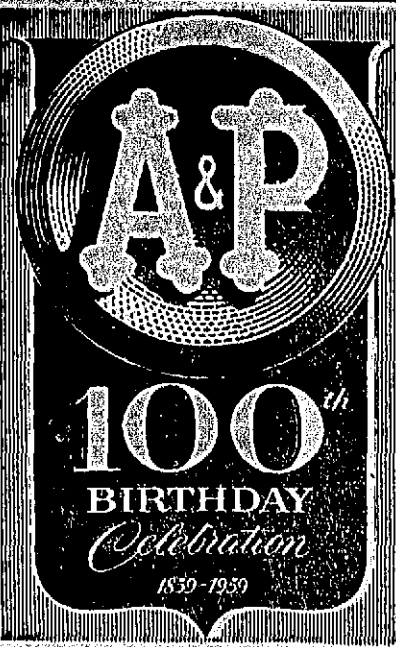

He said he did not believe integration versus segregation was the main issue in the conflict. It is a battle over personalities, the governor said.

Asked about Ku Klux Klan recruiting posters which have appeared on utility poles in Arkansas, recently, the governor said he thought the Klan movement was spreading throughout the South.

He said he did not believe anyone in his administration would join the Klan. And he added that he has instructed the state Police to report to him on any activities of the Klan or similar organizations.

Journey To Love

By VIRGINIA NIELSON

(C) 1959 by VIRGINIA NIELSON Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Kathie Ebberts has inherited $1,500 and a deed to some Hawaiian land. Her boy-friend Buck Landers wants her to marry him. She is willing but wants to spend the money for a honeymoon in Hawaii. He says, "Are you crazy?"

When Kathie came downstairs the next morning, Mrs. Jensen was in the kitchen preparing breakfast. The older woman gave her a curious look as she said, "Buck's come and gone. He said to tell you the chores are done."

Kathie stopped still, surprised and hurt. She was no later than usual. Buck must have come a full hour early this morning. And he had not wanted to see her. He was still angry, then. He had wanted to avoid her.

She sat down at the table, but her appetite was gone. She had been long enough under the influence of her head-headed old uncle to feel in her heart that Buck was quite right about the money. It had been an impulsive suggestion on her part, and Buck should not have taken it so seriously. She had intended to tell him so this morning.

"But discovering that he deliberately had come and gone early to avoid seeing her this morning brought her resentment flooding up again. It seemed to her that Buck was too anxious about the money."

The oatmeal seemed tasteless, and she pushed back her dish. Her coffee was too hot, and she stirred it absently. She realized Mrs. Jensen was speaking, but she hadn't heard a word.

"I'm sorry," she apologized. "What did you say, Mrs. Jensen?"

It was then that Mrs. Jensen advised Kathie to take her money to the bank in town. It was just an hour later when Kathie left the farm, jumping along the road in the dilapidated old truck. It was 9:45 when she turned the corner into the main street of town and first saw those thrilling words: "Hawaii Calls. You're in the window of a travel agency."

By 10 o'clock, Kathie had finished at the bank. And five minutes later, taking a deep breath, she entered the offices of the travel agency. At 11 o'clock, she emerged, still in a daze. In her purse was a ticket for passage on the next sailing of the Lurline.

"You're so lucky to get a cancellation like this!" the girl at the agency had told her.

There was also a card with a name scrawled across it. The girl had a friend who worked in a dress shop who could tell Kathie just what clothes she would need.

It was mid-afternoon before Kathie found herself on the country road again, going home. The seat beside her was piled high with boxes, and every time Kathie looked at them she quaked with terror. At last, as she had feared it would, the enchanted excitement that had carried her along from the moment she read that stirring Hawaii Calls YOU! was wearing off. It had been a long day, and now, Kathie was realizing there would be the pipers to pay.

"You have gone and bought a trousseau!" Mrs. Jensen cried excitedly, when Kathie got back to the farm.

Kathie said cautiously, "It could be one." For a honeymoon in Honolulu, perhaps, she added to herself. But mentally cataloging her purchases, she realized they were not what Buck would call practical for a farmer's wife. "Several playthings," the salesgirl had decreed. "At least one swimsuit."

"Your money is safe?" "It's safe," Kathie said evasively. "It was in the bank. But in a day or two, Kathie had planned she'd go back to the bank and turn it all into travelers' checks to take with her on the trip."

As in a dream, she remembered the pictures the travel bureau clerk had shown her of the Lurline and the chart of the vessel on which the girl had pointed out her stateroom. "Stateroom 71" now seemed utterly incredible that Kathie should ever see the Lurline, let alone board it. But there was the ticket in her purse.

"Here comes Buck," Mrs. Jensen said, peering out the window toward the farm buildings.

"On dear!" said Kathie. He came out of the barn with the milk buckets in his hands and headed toward the house.

"You're an early bird today," Mrs. Jensen cried archly, when he entered the kitchen, her eyes darting from one young face to the other.

"Hello, Buck," Kathie said in a small voice.

"Hi," he said, unsmilingly.

Mrs. Jensen excused herself, and Kathie and Buck were left alone. Buck, looking at the boxes still lying on the kitchen table, said, "I see you've been shopping."

Kathie stiffened. There was something in the way he said it, as though she had no right. Again she had the thought that Uncle Job's money was a matter of too much concern to Buck.

"Yes," she said, noncommittally.

Buck looked straight at her from under the heavy brows.

"Did you buy a wedding dress?" he asked.

Kathie's heart turned guiltily over. She shook her head. "Just clothes," she said.

"You're still thinking about Honolulu," he accused her suddenly. "Aren't you?"

In answer, Kathie opened her purse and took out the ticket. He looked down at it, his tanned jaws knotting savagely below his lean cheeks. "So now you're going alone," he said.

Police Shoot Negro That Killed Woman

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—A Negro barricaded himself in a house after shooting a white woman to death and killed a police officer and wounded three others before he was gunned down in his burning home.

Dr. Henry Voorhes, coroner for Lafayette Parish (county), said the Negro, identified as Albert Victor, shot and killed Mrs. Paul Ducharme in a nearby house, then barricaded himself and opened fire on officers after retreating to a second floor.

Detective Sgt. Leroy King, shot in the face when he went to the neighborhood, died a few minutes after assisting officers arrived. Capt. Harold Abadie, who accompanied King to Victor's house, was hit in the neck and his condition is undetermined. Officer of Police Carlo List was struck in the back by a blast from Victor's 12-gauge shotgun and Asst. Chief Donlon Ritchey was struck by a few pellets. Ritchey suffered only a slight injury. Officers lobbed tear gas and hand grenades into Victor's house which caught fire minutes later.

Victor was found with a bullet wound in the forehead after officers dragged him from the flaming house.

Voorhes gave this version: He said Victor apparently sneaked into Mrs. Ducharme's home, shot her at close range as she sat at a dressing table and then returned to his house. He beckoned two small white youths, James Rogers, 14, and Wilson Laglands, 13, into the house. The boys knew him and went in and said Victor began lying them up. They said they broke the ropes and fled.

Mrs. Carl Loblan saw the boys enter Victor's house and called police to investigate. Abadie and King went to the scene, called to Victor and the boys ran from the house and jumped into the patrol car. They said they looked up in time to see Victor open fire on the police men.

List, Ritchey and other officers went to the scene as Abadie and King both lay in front of Victor's house. List was struck in the face by a shotgun charge when Victor steadfastly refused to surrender and a few pellets caught Ritchey.

Body of Man Is Found in River

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP)—The body of 105 Chivers, 22, former Lee County welfare director who disappeared Jan. 23, was found in the Little Rock River near Marianna late yesterday. Sheriff Courtney Langston said the body was identified by clothing and other effects.

A Negro fisherman discovered the body, Langston said. A physician said death was caused by drowning.

The sheriff said there were no signs of foul play.

Chivers moved to Marianna last Dec. 1 and was last seen by local boy who said the official got out of his car on a bank of the river just east of town. The car was found parked on the bank several days later. Langston started dragging the river but abandoned the search when nothing was found.

Survivors include the widow and two daughters, now living at Stillwater, Okla. Chivers' mother, Mrs. Marybell Chivers of Conway, and two sisters, also of Conway, funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Some 20,000 pounds of meat are used for meals per month at the Little Rock Unit of the State Hospital.
